Regional Institutes

FAIMER offers fellowship programs for health professions educators through the online International FAIMER Institute based in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and 11 FAIMER Regional Institutes in Brazil, Chile, China, Egypt, India, Indonesia, and Sub-Saharan Africa. Health professions educators who complete one of these Institutes are skilled in implementing curricular improvements at their home institutions and become outstanding local and national resources and leaders for improving health professions education. FAIMER Fellows form an international network of more than 2,000 health professions educators representing nearly 60 countries with the goal of improving world health.
